Hours of Work

In India, volunteers work approximately 10 – 12 hour days. Due to the challenges of the working conditions, volunteers will have schedule work free days. In South Africa volunteers work Monday to Friday and have the weekends free.

Position Accountability

Volunteers have a high degree of autonomy and are required to conduct themselves in a professional manner at all times and adhere to the Equal Health Code of Ethics. The position reports directly to the team leader.

Key Responsibilities

Volunteers work towards the achievement of Equal Health's mission and objectives through the above range of tasks.

Working conditions

The aid you provide will deliver dental help and dental hygiene education to underprivileged people in Hillbrow, Johannesburg and surrounds. Each morning after breakfast the group receives a briefing, confirming the day's activities. You will be working alongside a medical team.

Priority is assigned to completing medical, optical and dental care on all of the residents at the of host organisations.

Using portable equipment, dental teams are able to provide basic restorative treatment and extractions. Due to the time frame involved and the weight of work, it is not possible to perform complex restorative treatment, endodontics, nor prosthetic work. The way teams have worked in the past is on a needs basis where treatment is provided according to the problem presented; the teams do not attempt to treatment plan other necessary work as the sad fact is there is no way the patient has access to further work. The main aid provided is extractions and simple restorations. It can and will be frustrating in this sense.

The rooms you will be working out of are sometimes poorly lit, cramped and dusty. During a normal working day, a dental team is likely to attend to around thirty people.
